

Announcement!

New Horizons Computer Learning Centers & Learning Gate Unite

We are extremely excited to announce that New Horizons Computer Learning Centers of Rhode Island and Learning Gate are now one! The union of these two companies represents two global leaders recognizing an opportunity to better serve their clients. New Horizons, the largest independent IT training company, is widely known as the premier resource for technology instructor led training. Career Academy, parent company of Learning Gate, recognized that clients would benefit by leveraging their cutting edge self-paced learning with New Horizons resources in the classroom. Look for further information on our website including the official Press Release at www.nhrhodeisland.com.

"This union is going to make life much easier for our customers since they now have one company and one relationship to maintain for all their training needs. We are really excited to take the two most advanced training providers and put them together to create the best experience for our clients."

-Joel Kestenberg
President, Career Academy

"I am very happy to have Learning Gate as a member of our family. The joining of our companies, both leaders in our own specialties, represents a huge step in providing our clients with the best possible training resources."

-Shawn Leonard
President, NH Northeast
